Arts at the Airport: The Source Behind the Music Exhibit Opening

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Arts at the Airport and the Metropolitan Nashville Airport Authority, in conjunction with SOURCE, will celebrate the opening of The SOURCE Behind the Music, an exhibition honoring the pioneering women who helped establish the foundation of the music industry.

Founded in 1991, SOURCE is a nonprofit organization supporting women executives and professionals who work in all facets of the Nashville music industry. In 2003, The SOURCE Foundation Awards were established to honor the pioneering women who helped establish the foundation of the music industry. The SOURCE Behind the Music exhibit highlights many of the SOURCE Award honorees and their achievements. While many were not celebrated in the music industry during their lifetime, they paved the way for women in the future and played a major role in creating the music industry as it is today. Arts at the Airport's Caroline Carlisle was the curator and producer of this exhibit, and Karen Edgin was the designer. Images of the exhibit can be viewed online at <http://www.flynashville.com/newsroom/photos.aspx>.

"We deliver the Nashville Airports Experience to our passengers and guests in many ways, and one of them is through the vibrant Arts at the Airport program," said Raul Regalado, president and CEO of the Metropolitan Nashville Airport Authority (MNA). "We're honored to have The SOURCE Behind the Music exhibit in the terminal for passengers to enjoy."

"SOURCE feels extremely honored that the Nashville International Airport wanted to display The SOURCE Behind the Music' exhibit", said Judy Harris, president of SOURCE. "All of the SOURCE honorees have contributed so much to the music industry through the years. I am very proud to know and to have worked beside many of these women. SOURCE is very grateful for this opportunity to share the stories and images of these dynamic women with the thousands of travelers who will see this exhibit every day."
